

DECODING THE 2019 INDIAN ELECTIONS

Wednesday, April 3, 2019

Join us for a discussion with a panel of experts as they cut through the fog and make sense of the upcoming Indian election.

Election time is upon us again in India. The Bharatiya Janata Party (BJP) secured a sweeping victory in the last national election, but in the last year, the race has become competitive. What are the key issues for voters in these elections? How much will caste and religion matter? Who has the edge?

PANELISTS

Tanvi Madan

Director, The India Project
Fellow, Foreign Policy
Project on Int'l Order & Strategy
The Brookings Institution

Neelanjan Sircar

Asst. Prof., Political Science
Ashoka University
Senior Fellow, CPR, New Delhi
CASI Spring 2019 Visiting Scholar

Milan Vaishnav

Director & Senior Fellow
South Asia Program
Carnegie Endowment for International Peace
CASI Non-Resident Visiting Scholar

MODERATOR

Marshall M. Bouton

Acting Director & Visiting Scholar, CASI

5:00 PM PANEL DISCUSSION (FORUM: ROOM 250) | 6:30 PM RECEPTION (CASI: SUITE 230)
RONALD O. PERELMAN CENTER FOR POLITICAL SCIENCE & ECONOMICS
133 SOUTH 36TH STREET | PHILADELPHIA, PA 19104