

CASI Seminar Series

Spring 2025

The IT Boom and Other Unintended Consequences of Chasing the American Dream

Gaurav Khanna (UC San Diego)
(with Nicolas Morales)

In partnership with the South Asia Center & PDRI-DevLab

April 3 (12pm)

Gaurav Khanna is an Associate Professor of Economics at UCSD's School of Global Policy and Strategy, a Non-Resident Fellow at the Center for Global Development, and an Editor at the Journal of Labor Economics. His research focuses on development and labor economics. Many of his current projects examine migration, education policy, infrastructure, public-works programs, and conflict. Prof. Khanna grew up in India and majored in Economics at the University of Delhi. He received his MSc from the University of Oxford and PhD in Economics from the University of Michigan.

133 South 36th Street (Suite 230)
Philadelphia, PA 19104
Light refreshments will be served